In order to have a valid mechanics' and materialmans' lien on a homestead in Texas, there must be a written contract between the original contractor and owner, signed by both spouses (if property is owned by a married couple) and filed with the county clerk prior to any work being done on the homestead.

Learn When and How to File a Mechanic's Lien

A mechanic's lien is a document that can be publicly filed by a person or entity that improves real property, when they believe that they were not fully compensated. Usually, contractors, subcontractors or material suppliers will file liens; although architects and engineers can file them as well, in certain situations.

Connecticut law requires the use of a two-part test in order to determine if a party has mechanics lien rights. The "physical enhancement test" requires that the services or materials must enhance the property physically, lay the groundwork for same, or be an essential part in the scheme of physical improvement.

Understanding Mechanic's Liens - FindLaw

While not necessarily a reason that an owner would avoid a mechanics lien, construction contracts often require that an owner must be defended and indemnified by a general contractor in the event a lien is filed. If a general contractor does not resolve the lien claim in these cases, they may be liable for all sorts of costs, including ...
