The KTM EXC has been in production for an impressive 23 years. And if you go back to the very first models that came out of the restructured Austrian firm back in 1992, they are not a world away from the machines that are being churned out to an eager buying public today.

Review: 2018 KTM 250 EXC-F - MotoOnline.com.au

The KTM 250 EXC-F's powerplant is one of - if not - the most powerful engine on the market, and that's a significant boost in the quarter-litre category. For 2020, it has two new overhead camshafts which activate the titanium valves via super-light DLC coated finger followers, while the cam shaft timings have been optimised to further enhance engine performance.
