Figure 1 presents an overview of the key kinds of capabilities, knowledge and skills brought to bear in leaders' problem-solving efforts. This model posits that leaders begin to address complex organizational issues by defining the problem and formulating a solution framework or set of ideas that might be used to understand the problem and develop initial solution strategies.

Operation Market Garden was a failed World War II military operation fought in the Netherlands from 17 to 25 September 1944. It was the brainchild of Field Marshal Sir Bernard Law Montgomery, planned primarily by Generals Brereton and Williams of the USAAF. The airborne part of the operation was undertaken by the First Allied Airborne Army with the land

Regardless of size, all human groups are subject to the same dynamics. Factors that hamper a small group can also cause a much larger structure to falter. In business, managers and employees alike suffer when an organization doesn't function optimally. Pat Brans points out what dysfunctional organizations have in common and how to spot the five biggest problems.
