The Super Magnum is a different story, it's a hot rod motor with a higher RPM range. I'm a big fan of these old motors, mine is a 87 220 hp mariner magnum EFI, in 5 years of running every weekend in the summer I've replaced one rectifier, that's it, runs strong every time. _____

Re: Oil Alarm 1995 Mariner 150hp Magnum III WAIT Before you do anything, mix enough oil with the fuel in the tank to bring it up to 50:1. Then troubleshoot the oil alert. If it's controls and it's still oiling, it'll be a little rich. If the oil pump is actually failing, you will save the powerhead.
