My Legendary Girlfriend feels a lot different in style to you later novels. Why is this? Part of the reason comes down to the fact that I rewrote My Legendary Girlfriend so many times. And part of it is down to the demands of Will's character, which I'll concede can be a bit extreme at times.

Ultimately My Legendary Girlfriend is pulp fiction for the Pulp generation, an old-fashioned morality tale dressed up as an enjoyable romp that should appeal to lovers of Men Behaving Badly and anyone who has suffered the ignominy of having a Sting song quoted at them to justify a break-up.--David Vincent

My Legendary Girlfriend also suffers from the fact that Will isn't that likeable a character, due to his severe slobiness, and just pure patheticness in not moving on for three years after being dumped by his then girlfriend Aggi. All this guy does is sit around and mope about her and the fact that he is a now a teacher, a job he doesn't like.
