Billy the Kid - Wikipedia

In The Prince and the Pauper, Mark Twain paints a word picture of King Henry VIII using descriptive language:. Before him, at a little distance, reclined a very large and very fat man, with a wide, pulpy face, and a stern expression. His large head was very grey; and his whiskers, which he wore only around his face, like a frame, were grey also.

Ancient Egyptians are credited with having invented the engagement ring and the old Greeks for following the custom thereon. The tradition of wearing an engagement ring on the fourth finger of the left hand is popular, as the Romans trusted this finger had a vein that ran specifically to the heart —the Vena Amoris; in Latin meaning "Vein of Love".
